Aldermen Reject Soft Drink Law

Volstead Law Enforcement Up to Police and Not Board of Health Says Committee, Whose Report Was Adopted 9 to 3.

The proposed soft drink ordinance, the adoption of which has been urged by several civic and religious organizations in Kingston, was rejected Tuesday evening by the common council by a vote of nine to three, when Alderman Jacob Schlip of the Fourth ward moved that the report of the laws and rules committee favoring rejection of the ordinance be adopted.

All of the aldermen were present at the meeting except Alderman Ray Everett of the Eleventh ward, who was reported as ill.

The soft drink ordinance came before the council when the laws and rules committee submitted its report stating: "The several requests regarding the soft drink ordinance referred to the laws and rules committee since January 23, 1926, have been received and after a careful study of such ordinance we respectfully submit the following: The intent of the proposed ordinance is obviously to assist the United States government in the enforcement of the Volstead act. Therefore it seems to the committee that the responsibility for the enforcement should be placed where it belongs—namely with the police department—instead of with the board of health which should not be vested with any authority properly belonging to the police department, and for which it is not equipped to exercise. In view of the above facts the committee recommends that the ordinance as drawn be rejected."

The report was signed by George W. Moore, chairman, E. J. Dempsey, Joseph A. Radcl and Leo W. Clare. Alderman Schlip moved that the report be adopted, and his resolution when put to a vote was adopted by a vote of nine to three. Those voting in favor of rejection: Aldermen DeGarmo, Moore, Schlip, Fox, Mann, Radcl, Clare, Smith and Flannery. Those opposed were Aldermen Haines, O'Reilly and Neice.

Time Limit Extended.

A communication was received from City Assessor Martin asking for an extension of sixty days in laying special assessment for construction of sewers in Greenkill avenue, South Wall street, Winchell avenue, Clifton avenue, Deyo street, Reynolds street, Stephen street, the Boulevard, Foshall avenue, Flatbush avenue, and on motion the extension of time was granted.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper city boards:

By Alderman Moore—that board of public works curb, gutter and top dress Stanley street. Attached to the resolution was a petition from the property owners on the street.

By Alderman Smith—that rail on Warren street be repaired and that the present wooden railing on Main street be replaced with one of iron.

By Alderman Neice—that board of public works place large electric light at Greenkill avenue and Sterling street; that the board of public works repair Henry street, Prospect street, Liberty street and Van Buren street, as soon as weather conditions permit.

No Charter Report.

Alderman O'Reilly of the Ninth ward inquired if the corporation counsel had submitted any report as to the resolution he had introduced some time ago that each alderman be supplied with copy of the city charter, and was informed that nothing had been heard from Judge Jenkins in regard to the matter.

After referring some bills against the city to the auditing committee the council adjourned.

GERMAN PRESS BLAMES BRAND AND CHAMBERLAIN

Berlin, March 17.—German newspapers united today in condemning the outcome of the league council controversy as a terrific exposure of the weakness of the league as an instrument for universal peace and friendship.

There is some disagreement in placing guilt for the failure of the conference but the majority blame Brand and Chamberlain, describing them as "wire-pullers" who were extraneously unfair in that they made secret promises to Poland and Spain without the knowledge of Germany.

DISARMAMENT PARLEY WILL BE POSTPONED

Geneva, March 17.—The League of Nations preliminary conference on disarmament will probably be deferred until after Germany is admitted to the league. It was learned this afternoon that the council is in session this afternoon considering the preliminary disarmament conference, and it is understood that there is a tendency to favor postponement on what Germany may participate as a member of the league.

Five Days in Jail.

John Wayne, 45 years old, arrested by Officer Tierney of the West Shore police force on a charge of public intoxication at the West Shore station Tuesday evening, was held in a police court today by Judge Shonick. Unable to pay the fine he was committed to the county jail for five days.

"Grippy Flu" Is Gripping City

Prevalent Among School Children and School Faculty—Tuesday Tuesday Nearly 600 Were Absent From City Schools—Attack Lasts Several Days.

The "grippy flu" that is sweeping over Kingston is particularly prevalent among teachers and pupils in the city schools. On Tuesday nearly six hundred were absent from the schools. Fortunately the attacks last but a few days.

As fast as those who are taken ill recover and return to school another large number fall ill, and attendance is greatly cut into by the disease.

The "grippy flu" as it is called by those who have been afflicted should not be confused with the epidemic flu of 1917, as it is not as dangerous, and by those having it taking proper care they are able to be out and around again within a few days. All of the city physicians are rushed with sick calls from families all over the city as the attack is not confined to any particular section of the city but is general.

ANOTHER MYSTERY

FIRE AT HAVERHILL.

Haverhill, Mass., March 17.—This shoe manufacturing city had another fire scare today, one of a series within the past six months.

On the heels of a violent explosion, which blew out the front windows of the "bootery," a shoe store at No. 124 Washington street, flames swept the four story building.

The fire threatened to spread through the business section when firebrands fell on roofs of buildings along Washington street. But after a hard and long battle firemen called by a general alarm had the situation under control. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

Like previous fires here recently today's fire was of mysterious origin and state fire marshals and local police were trying to learn what caused the explosion, which preceded the blaze.

The second floor of the ruined building was the plant of the Enterprise Shoe and Leather Company, on the third floor the factory of the Company and on the fourth floor the factory of the company.

Directly after the explosion, flames shot twenty feet into the air through the broken windows. Firemen were hampered in fighting the fire because an alleyway in the rear was clogged with snow and ice.

THREE ALLEGED YOUTHFUL BANDITS CAPTURED.

Hudson Falls, N. Y., March 17.—Three of the four alleged youthful bandits who robbed the Hudson Falls National Bank of $12,000 in currency and $6,000 in securities, today were under arrest. They gave the names of:

William Yarter, 30, of this place; Harry Stein, 25, of Hoboken, N. J.; Robert McKewen, 22, Hoboken, N. J.

Authorities said they expected to take the fourth bandit in custody today. He is believed to be a resident of this village.

The alleged bandits were arrested here in the home of Charles Measack, a brother-in-law of Yarter, less than ten hours after the holdup.

Deforest Williams, taxi driver of Saratoga, who drove the car which carried the bandits away from the bank, was released by the authorities. He was found gagged and bound to the steering wheel of his machine. He said the four youths rented him to drive here. One man remained in the car and kept a gun pointed at Williams while the other three locked the bank employees in the vault and carried off the loot.

CURTIS COMPANY GETS ORDER FOR AIRPLANES

Buffalo, N. Y., March 17.—It was announced today that the first government order for airplanes to be placed with a Buffalo corporation since the end of the World War has been given to the Curtis Airplane and Motor Company.

Coy Kers of the Curtis Airplane said that the order calls for thirty-five navy pursuit planes and pontoons valued at over $600,000.

SAYS CHINA ULTIMATUM HURTS AMERICAN INTERESTS

Peking, March 17.—Prominent Americans in Peking today cabled to the state department a protest against the United States participating in the ultimatum issued by the powers, ordering the cessation of war in the vicinity of Tientsin.

The protest declared that the ultimatum aggravates anti-foreign sentiments in China and is harmful to American interests.

EARTHQUAKE 2,300 MILES FROM NEW YORK DESTRUCTIVE

New York, March 17.—An earthquake, apparently about 2,300 miles from New York in a southerly direction, was recorded today by the seismograph at Durham University.

The quake started at 4:33 P. M. and was announced at the university, and ended at 5 A. M.

The quake attained its maximum intensity at 5:15 A. M.

No New Cases of Typhoid Reported

A. Adin, Milk Dealer, Followed Advice of Family Physician and Stopped Sale of Milk Until It Was Pasteurized.

There have been no new cases of typhoid fever reported in Kingston, according to Dr. Daniel Connelly, city health officer. There are three cases at the present time here.

One of the cases developed in the family of A. Adin, the East Union street dealer, and Monday evening after consulting with his family physician he was advised not to sell any of his milk until it had been pasteurized, and he adopted that advice.

Tuesday morning when the typhoid cases were brought to the attention of Dr. Connelly, health officer, he made an investigation and stated that all three cases had been traced to the milk handled by Mr. Adin. The health officer stated that Adin would not be allowed to sell any raw milk until further notice but could continue handling milk and delivering it to his trade if he had it pasteurized. This Adin was already doing, and will continue to sell pasteurized milk until notified by the health officer that he can resume handling raw milk.

The health officer is of the opinion that by having the milk pasteurized it will avert all danger of the spread of the disease among users of the milk.

Adin's Statement.

Mr. Adin has written to The Freeman as follows:

To the Editor of The Freeman Sir:

In last evening's issue of your paper an article appeared in reference to milk sold by the undersigned Adin. The milk sold by me in the past has always been of highest grade and I desire to call your attention to the fact that it was unnecessary for the health officer to issue any orders prohibiting our further handling and selling raw milk, for this reason that once having been informed that there was any question of our milk containing germs of any kind that I of my own accord discontinued selling raw milk. Therefore the milk which is being distributed and sold by me at present is pasteurized milk and is absolutely a pure and wholesome product.

Trusting you may give this matter space in your paper so that the public and my patrons may know I am safeguarding their interest, I remain,

A. ADIN.

Boarding House Burns at Oliverea

The large boarding house at Oliverea, owned and conducted by Max Stark of Far Rockaway, Long Island, was totally destroyed by fire Monday night.

The fire was discovered by Julius Levine about 7:30 o'clock. He called the Pine Hill fire department but by the time they arrived the building had collapsed as it was of frame construction and burned rapidly.

The engine was pumping water from the Esopus creek, a distance of 500 feet, to the fire and by the prompt action of the firemen all the outbuildings were saved. The loss is estimated at $12,000, partially covered by insurance.

The house was formerly owned by George E. Jocelyn, who successfully conducted a boarding house for a good many years.

No one seems to know how the fire started as the building was unoccupied.

This is the third large fire in that immediate vicinity within the past four months, with approximate losses of more than $125,000. While this building was one of the first large summer boarding houses established in the Big Indian valley, the place has been closed for the past two or three seasons. The place was sold about three years ago under mortgage foreclosure.

Ennist Waives For Grand Jury

George Ennist, the twenty year old negro proprietor of "Tumble Inn," as his place at 61 Hasbrouck avenue is known to the police, this morning before Judge Shonick in police court waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of impairing the morals of a minor. Bail of $2,500 was continued.

Ennist was arrested by Officer Ray Saeborn who swears that when he knocked at the Ennist door he was admitted by Ennist who was partially dressed. In a rear room the officer found Margaret Burke, 15 year old girl of Poughkeepsie, who the officer swears was partially dressed.

The officer placed both youth and girl under arrest.

The hearing in the girl's case will be in children's court before Judge Fowler this afternoon.

Ennist is the son of Mrs. Daisy Ennist, a white woman, who died recently.

St. Patrick's Supper.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Reformed Church will serve a St. Patrick's Supper this evening, from 5 to 6 o'clock at the chapel.

The menu will include chicken, ham, potatoes, chicken salad, green beans, corn, etc., etc.

A few dollars will be taken and the proceeds will be for the sale of the same.

Major Changes In Penal Laws Recommended

Baumes Committee Recommends Important Changes In Penal Laws and Criminal Practice—Major Recommendations.

Albany, N. Y., March 17.—The Baumes Legislative Committee, which has been studying crime conditions in the state, today filed its report with the legislature. The committee decided that the time was not ripe for recommending a completely revised code of criminal procedure, but made a number of recommendations for important changes in the penal laws and criminal practice.

The major recommendations were:

Establishment of a central criminal identification bureau to which all prison authorities and police officials are required to send fingerprints and Bertillon measurements of all criminals taken into custody.

Repeal of the 20-year limit on a sentence for first degree robbery making it not less than 15 years in a state prison, and as much more as the presiding judge believes fits the crime.

All applicants for bail in felony cases, moral turpitude, and a number of major misdemeanors shall be fingerprinted and their previous criminal history checked up before being admitted to bail. A first offender of acquittal may have his finger print impressions returned.

The committee decided that pistols are too freely obtained and recommended that a person committing a felony while armed with any dangerous weapon shall be imprisoned for double the term he would otherwise receive and that he shall not be let out on probation nor in any way have his term shortened by any provision of law.

Repeal of the law that permits a defendant to refuse to take the witness stand in his own behalf.

When insanity is to be relied upon for defense, that a plea of "not guilty on the ground of insanity" be made when the defendant is arraigned so the prosecuting officer will have an opportunity to fairly present his case.

Reduction in the time allowed for filing an appeal to the Appellate Division or to the Court of Appeals from one year to thirty days.

The committee recommended that commutation and compensation in reduction of sentences imposed by the trial judge be abolished and the sentence as handed down by the trial judge be carried out.

Separate trials for a number of persons jointly indicted for participation of one crime be granted only at discretion of the judge and not as a matter of right.

The adoption this year of a constitutional amendment permitting a defendant to waive a jury trial in a criminal case.

Reduction in the punishment for gambling, classifying it as a misdemeanor instead of a felony, but strengthening the statute so as to reach policy games.

The adoption of an amendment empowering the judge to reopen the case and impose more severe sentence, if after the conviction of a defendant classed as a first offender, it comes to light that he had a previous criminal record.

The committee suggested that cities which have ample power without legislative action, to increase their police forces do so at once. The committee also recommended that a body of fifty state police qualified as detectives be organized to assist district attorneys in ferreting out criminals.

Complete and thorough revision of the criminal practice and penal statutes of the state be worked out at once.

The committee declared that police protection in a number of the cities of the state is inadequate. It was pointed out that in New York city a policeman is expected to cover practically a mile, while in Jamestown he is expected to cover 15 miles; in Buffalo two and a half miles and in Rochester four and a quarter miles.

It was further pointed out that in Jamestown a policeman is expected to protect 5,424 people; in Kingston, 3,036; Utica, 2,388; Niagara Falls, 2,718; Rochester, 2,691; Mt. Vernon, 2,361; Syracuse, 2,607; Buffalo, 1,933; Albany, 1,821; New Rochelle, 1,625; Yonkers, 1,374.

The committee also voiced disapproval of the number of pardons, commutations of sentences and restorations of citizenship handed out last year. Of the 32 pardons issued by Governor Smith.

The committee is composed of Senator Caleb H. Baumes, chairman of Newburgh, Assemblyman Burton D. Esmoré, also of Newburgh, Hamilton Spar, also of Newburgh, Walter A. Gedday of Nyack, Horace M. Stone of Marcellus, Joseph H. Gargan of New York, Marcellus H. Davis of Brookville and Senators R. Roger Williams of Poughkeepsie, Henry D. Williams of Poughkeepsie, John Knight and Robert J. Demme, leaders in the senate, and Samuel L. Adler and Maurice Bloch, leaders in the assembly. Herbert L. Smith, of Syracuse is secretary of the committee.

Contractor Tells Why He Quit

Supposed Bottom of Sausages Reservoir Was of Soft Material and Stopped Work When Village Board Refused to Allow Him to Remove Tree Trunks.

The action brought by the village of Saugerties against the Globe Indemnity Company to recover damages was continued Tuesday afternoon in the Supreme court before Judge Staley and a jury.

During the afternoon Mr. Tierney, who took the contract for $18,000 for cleaning out the village reservoir, was called to the stand. He testified that he had gone with his superintendent to the reservoir and investigated the job. They had poked along shore with sticks and from their investigation supposed the bottom of the reservoir was of soft material. He said he had been in the contracting business for some 30 years and had had numerous similar jobs. He read the specifications and called on the village engineer, James F. Loughran, before he bid. After he went on the job the men in charge found that the bottom of the reservoir contained many stumps, tree trunks and considerable stone and hard material which the suction dredge would not pick up. He thought that he had not bid on such material and so notified the village board, asking for additional compensation to clear out this hard material which the suction dredge would not handle.

On cross-examination he said he had gone to the spot to investigate for the purpose of bidding on the job and that he had not at that time noticed any hard material. Mr. Loughran also told him that he did not care what method he used in dredging the lake. He used the suction dredge method. He did not consider the drag bucket method used later by Mr. Loughran as a good method for cleaning the place, although it was by that method that the job was completed by the village.

When he was unsuccessful in getting added compensation for the hard material he dismantled his plant and left, claiming that he had not bid on the removal of such hard material.

Corporation Counsel Grant M. Brininger with Amos Van Etten appears for the village and James N. Catlow appears for Mr. Tierney and the Globe Indemnity Company.

Buckner Wars On Prescriptions

Warrants Are Issued Charging Doctors, Druggists and Distillery Salesmen With Conspiracy To Violate Dry Law.

New York, March 17.—Veering sharply on a new tack in his campaign of liquor law enforcement, District Attorney Emory R. Buckner today filed notice of complaint against twenty-seven medical doctors, six druggists and four distillery salesmen, charging them with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act by illegal traffic in prescriptions. Warrants were issued.

Filing of the complaints came as the result of an investigation carried on for three months by Assistant United States Attorney John J. Fogarty, of Yonkers, assisted by prohibition agents and special agents of the intelligence division.

In instituting the charges against the alleged violators, Buckner characterized the doctor-druggist combinations as "the new class of high-ups in the bootlegging game."

Buckner charged he had evidence to show that prescription books were sold from prices ranging from $125 to $150 by doctors to distillery agents, who then turned them over to druggists.

The druggist involved, Buckner said, then would use the prescription blanks as screens for their illegal operations, by falsifying them to cover the amount of liquor sold over the counter.

Buckner said he also had evidence to show that blanks once stolen, and supposedly void, had been filled in wholesale lots, and treated with a chemical process to render them fit for illegal use.

The federal agents declared they could prove that twice as much liquor was being dispensed by druggists throughout the state than the law allowed.

All the druggists and doctors involved, with the exception of one in Yonkers, are located in New York city proper. Buckner indicated, however, that his drive against the "prescription bootleggers" would extend throughout the district, which comprises the southern counties of the state.

Padlock proceedings will be begun against the drug stores, Buckner said, and efforts made to revoke the prescription licenses of the doctors involved.

ALLEGED "DIVORCE MILL" UNDER INVESTIGATION.

Philadelphia, March 17.—Decision from the state department as to the legality of an alleged "divorce mill" linking upper Darby, Pennsylvania, and Yucatan was being awaited today by United States District Attorney Coles before taking action against Gordon W. Disharoon, who it is alleged, offered to obtain decrees within thirty days and without notice being served on the respondent.

Disharoon, according to employees, has admitted that he used the mails in conducting his divorce business and if the state department should rule that such divorces are not valid, he will be prosecuted for using the mails to defraud, Coles said.

Disharoon's home in Upper Darby was visited by postal inspectors who said they obtained correspondence, files and other records which, they said, showed that divorces were obtained with speed and without the formality of proper grounds upon payment of $500 fees.

Sees No Need of Hanging Chapman

Widow of Policeman, Aging Rapidly Since Death of Husband, Sees No Need of Hanging Bandit.

New Britain, Conn., March 17.—Mrs. Katherine Skelly, widow of the veteran policeman who was shot and killed on the morning of October 12, 1924, in the Davidson & Leventhal department store, by Gerald Chapman, sees no need of hanging the bandit who murdered her husband.

"There's no use of taking a life for a life," she said today, as she reluctantly talked about the approaching hanging of Chapman which is scheduled for April 6 at the Connecticut State Prison at Wethersfield, about thirteen or fourteen miles from here, and just a comparatively short distance from Hartford where Policeman Skelly's murderer was convicted last year in the superior court.

Mrs. Skelly's eyes dimmed with tears which she hastily wiped away. "My husband is gone now—They can never bring him back to me, so what's the use," she said slowly. "It's nearly a year and a half since he's dead and it seems only yesterday."

"I'm not interested in, — in —" and here her voice trailed off. She would not, or she could not bring herself to mention the name of the ex-convict who killed her husband in cold blood.

"I don't care what they do. The newspapers print much about him, but when I see the headlines," she declared, "I look away. I don't read what they say—I suppose it's because it's my nature."

And while she again lifted her eyeglasses to wipe the tears away, her youngest son Francis, aged fourteen, interposed to ask if Chapman was to hang April 6. Given a reply that this would probably be the date of his hanging, the youngster exclaimed:

"I only wish I could be there to see another strap around his neck!"

"Fush Francis, how can you talk so?" Mrs. Skelly said rather sharply to her son, who immediately lapsed into silence. "The rest of them in the family," she said, "don't feel as I do about this thing, but I can't help it," and her head bowed downward.

The tragic death of her husband has told heavily of the widow and she admitted that her hair has been turning grey rapidly. She has aged perceptibly and her children are her only comfort now. There are several sons and a daughter in the family.

During the time of the trial of Chapman in the superior court in Hartford, Mrs. Skelly was annoyed persistently with anonymous letters and communications which came apparently from cranks who wrote missives containing nonsensical information, she said. Some of the mail she turned over to the local authorities but most of it she destroyed. Since Chapman's conviction, she has not been bothered in this way.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MARCH 17, 1928.

The legislative leaders have said from the very beginning that with proper attention to business there was no reason why adjournment should not take place about as early as usual. A short and snappy session is approved by the people, while a long, drawn-out one fails to attract interest.

Theodore Roosevelt and his brother Kermit have returned from a hunting trip in the Himalayas. Some say it was for advertising purposes and maybe it was but the names of many others who have done as much are not on the tip of every tongue. The father of those two boys was also frequently criticized but as Americans go he is looked upon as having been a pretty good citizen and as having done as much for his country as those who were the most severe in their personal attacks.

THE BOYISH FIGURE.

When the larger part of the youth of the world appeared in martial, tight-fitting khaki, the rest of the world looked upon the spectacle of boyish slimness with admiration so complete that it was widely mingled with envy. Men sighed as they smiled, knowing that they looked upon the unattainable. Women, on the other hand, instead of sighing in resignation, resolutely determined to attain. Hence the fashions providing for an altogether unprecedented slimness—an unwearied chase after the boyish form that continues to this date. And hence the untiring efforts to "reduce" by the very large percentage for whom nature had rendered the quest of such slenderness a difficult and thorny road to travel. Hence also the more than Spartan, the appalling, self-denial of a diet that reached the extremes of "two lettuce leaves with plenty of lemon sauce."

Which was all very well temporarily, for those with enough accumulated avoirdupois to live on for a while. But now that the doctors have consulted and reported, it appears that the path toward the slimness of the khaki boys is altogether too liberally strewn with wrecks. Sad stories were told in the sessions of the Adult Weight Conference at the New York Academy of Medicine, and the anti-reducers appear to have had much the better of the arguments. It seems that the fight against too solid flesh involves great psychic as well as serious physical dangers. Dr. Gregory of Bellevue Hospital cited for last year 225 cases of mental break-down traceable to unwise dieting. There were also hints of whole families upset by the "nerves" of the hungry and desperate dieters. A resigned acceptance of the "figure" that nature gives us, it would appear, is no less imperative than philosophical resignation to lack of beauty and wealth. It is folly for those of too ample girth to waste time in dreams of boyish slimness, and starvation is no picnic.

SOCIETY OF "DANNED SOULS."

Referring to students at Rochester, N. Y., who have entitled their organization as above, the New York Times thinks "they must have been a little cast down by the refusal of the university authorities to interfere with their glorious project." The Times thinks that the decision to ignore the society was wise and predicts that, granted free hand and tongue these youths "who fancy they are athletes" will "quickly bore each other to distraction." But the accounts indicate that there is more behind the matter than mere freshman foolery. It seems that this students' society is part of the same organization, proposing to "abolish belief in God," which was refused a charter under the laws of New York by Justice Mitchell of the Supreme Court last October and was granted a charter by Justice Ford of the same court three weeks later.

According to a special to the Philadelphia Record, the students' organization named above is part of the revival of the campaign pushed by the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, with headquarters in New York city, which "has already established branches throughout the country," including such distant points as San Francisco and Greenville, S. C.

boys in the Baptist college at Rochester, N. Y., may be merely trying to shock their elders, but that which furnished their inspiration is a man's movement which may grow and be permanent. The spirit within it may perhaps be more or less accurately described as an exaggerated symptom of the more general revolt against increasing restriction of the liberties of the people.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

ARE WE REALLY WHAT WE EAT?

You have perhaps always had the opinion that if you ate a certain amount of food, and someone else did likewise, that it would take the same amount of time in both cases for it to be mixed well in stomach, then the same time likewise to be digested in small intestine and again the same amount of time to pass through the large intestine. Now it is found that this is not true, as in one case the food makes the entire trip through the intestinal canal in as short a time as 15 hours, whereas in another individual it may take as much as 60 hours. It might occur to you that the intestinal canal that handled the food in the shorter time did its work rapidly and well, whereas our research men are demonstrating that in some individuals the journey is made so fast through the small intestine, that the small intestine does not have time to absorb the nourishment out of the food, and the food passes along too rapidly into the large intestine, the body thus losing that much of the value of the food.

Under some circumstances this may be the fault of the intestine, but in most cases it is thought to be due to the "quality and quantity" of the food. Experimenting on animals, one of our research men was able to show that when fed with an all round or complete diet containing the vitamins, that the food took a certain number of hours to reach the large intestine, whereas, in foods deficient in vitamins the food reached the large intestine in about half the time.

What does this mean? That the vitamins seem to hold the food in contact with the absorbing surface of the small intestine and thus give the small intestine the necessary opportunity to absorb all the good out of the food. Where the food is deficient in vitamins, it seems to "slip" along too rapidly, and even the good food portions are not completely absorbed.

In building up "run down" individuals, and correcting chronic forms of skin ailments, these men found that by giving an all round diet of food of good quality, having the patient eat slowly, and spreading the meals not less than six hours apart, that they attained brilliant results.

It is often said that our bodies are just what we eat, but the truth is that our bodies are made up of only what the small intestine is able to absorb from the food as it passes through it.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

Arrest and Trial of Tories and Spies in Border Warfare in Saratoga Settlements, March 17, 1781.

During the spring and summer of 1781 the Tories and Indians went down upon Warwasing and other portions of the frontier settlements of Ulster and Orange counties. Attempts were made to carry off prominent citizens, and in some instances the invaders were successful. The most prominent Tories engaged in this business were Joseph Bettys and John Waltermeyer.

"Joe Bettys" was known as a shrewd, intelligent, daring and bad man. It is said, that pity and mercy were emotions which he never felt, and that to all gentler impulses he was thoroughly insensible.

At the breaking out of the Revolution he lived at Ballston, N. Y., and was a Whig. Entering the continental service he performed feats of extraordinary valor in Arnold's battle with Carleton on Lake Champlain, where he was taken prisoner and carried to Canada. Here he was induced to accept a commission of ensign in the British service, and performed the duties of a spy. He was captured, tried and condemned to the gallows. Washington spared his life, but Bettys returned to the ranks of the enemy, and his subsequent career was marked by almost every enormity that can disgrace a human being. A record of his crimes would fill a book. He burned the dwellings of persons whom he hated, or took them off by murder. Fatigue, distance or danger, were no obstacles in the accomplishments of his designs. He scorned disguise or concealment.

On March 2, 1781, Bettys was captured near Fort Schuyler, by Lieutenant Fillmore. A message to Sir Henry Clinton, inclosed in a silver bullet, was found upon his person; he was taken to Albany, where he was later tried, condemned and hanged, as a spy and traitor.

John Waltermeyer was quite as noted for enterprise and daring, but not for cruelty or ferocity. In 1781, at the head of a band of Tories, Indians and Canadians, he attempted to carry off General Schuyler, who abode at that time in the suburbs of Albany. A clever ruse of the brave general foiled his abductors, who fled.

When the arrest of Joe Bettys became known in Ballston, secrecy was enjoined, for it was rightly conjectured he had not traversed the northern forests of New York alone.

A son of Mrs. Camp, who lived in the neighborhood, was suspected of accompanying Bettys. Major Mitchell sent Sergeant Kenathy Gordon to search Mrs. Camp's home. Accompanied by John Sweatman and several fearless neighbors, they gained access to the Camp home after bedtime, and inquired for her son. She declared her ignorance of his whereabouts, pretended to be incensed that armed men should enter her dwelling, and still more on being suspected of harboring an enemy.

The widow's attitude was patriotic but Sergeant Gordon was equally resolute, and satisfied that her Tory son was in the house. He went to the fire place, seized a blazing brand and started up stairs.

Young Camp and Jonathan Miller, who had accompanied Bettys to the neighborhood were then in an upper room. Hearing the noise below, they sprang out of bed, seized their guns and leveled them.

At the click of locks, Gordon jumped down stairs, and swore if they did not surrender themselves in less than five minutes, he would smother them out.

They secreted some money under a rafter and submitted to Gordon's authority. They were taken to the dwelling of Major Mitchell, where they were secured until morning.

Obadiah Miller, a brother, was sent for the following day, and at the sight of his kinsman a prisoner, he trembled like a leaf.

The sequel of this affair is that the Millers were together in the woods when an attempt was made the fall before to capture Major Mitchell, which he now was able to fully confirm.

The prisoners were taken to Albany, and after a trial and conviction, on March 17, they subsequently effected an escape, except Joe Bettys, who was hanged on the gallows.

PETER GNOME'S JOURNEY

"I've just had such a nice journey," said Peter Gnome to the other Gnomes.

A Fine Little Boy.

"They awoke from dreams or they awoke from dreamless sleeps."

"They all had different ways of waking and seemed to have awakened from different dream worlds."

"Well, I saw many of the children going to school and I heard one little girl say that she was going to take her umbrella along with her."

"It may rain," she said, "and an umbrella will come in handy if it does."

"I thought she would have said at first that the umbrella would come in handy—for it would get wet, or that it would save her from getting wet and so would come in handy for her!"

"But she didn't mean it to have anything to do with her hands, except that the expression evidently came from having things near at hand and ready when they should be needed."

"Then I saw on the first, the very first day of spring, in one place through which I was passing, the very first buds appearing and I heard some one say:

"Those are the very first buds to appear this year, and right on the very first day of spring."

"Isn't that interesting?"

"I thought so too, but of course I didn't join in the conversation."

"Then I saw a fine little boy, quite a young boy, pulling a blue cart and blue horse."

"You may wonder about the blue horse, but you see both the horse and cart were made of wood and both were joined together."

"The cart could not help following the horse and the horse could not help following the cart as they were both pulled by him upon a thick cord."

"And as I said both were joined together."

"Only the boy was separate but he kept them with him."

"As the horse was pulled along his legs went up and down in a very noble manner."

"He jogged along too and yet he looked the noble animal that the horse is."

"And then I saw a little girl named Dolly picking out the most beautiful yellow-golden-orange-colored rose bush for her birthday."

"She was picking it out from a flower book and she was reading about the way it would bloom into the autumn and how hardy it would be."

"It was going to be her very own rose bush—a present for her very own birthday."

"I also saw that on the center of the birthday table that was all ready for her there was a bunch of trailing arbutus flowers—the first of the season."

"And I saw the windows of a house being washed and they looked so clear and clean that I almost could have believed there were no windows there at all."

"I can admire bushes and flowers and clean windows too," ended Peter Gnome.

"In fact I very much enjoy clean windows—houses that have clean windows look so though they must be so pretty and clean and nice inside," he ended.

Bless Her Heart

"What are you doing Helen?" inquired a fond mother.

"I am knitting, mother," replied the sweet young thing. "I heard T-d-d-y say the other day that he was afraid he'd have to get a new mother for his cat, and I thought I'd surprise him."

Tune to the Right.

The following is an order mailed to a prominent piano company.

"Dear Sir, Please send me by mail a string for my piano. Have the string tuned to G, before you send it, as my husband can put it in, but he can't tune it."

Mrs. X "P. S. It's the G on the right side of the piano."

The uplifiers are at their work busily twenty-four hours a day, but the only things ever really uplified are prices.

"Can't you find someone," pleads a reader, "who will invent a union suit with four corners all alike—one that a fellow may put on in the dark without his arms and lower limbs getting mixed?"

The stone age was a good old age. When men had pep and vim. Each time he wanted a new wife. He axed her to marry him.

"How do I stand with you?" said the youth to his dancing teacher.

ROADWAY, STREET AND AIRWAY SURVEYS

13 May Become Safety Number

Thirteen Unlucky Practices That Result in Auto Deaths—Hazards and Practices That Have Had Results—When Most Accidents Occur.

Kingston, March 17.—Thirteen is indeed an unlucky number for both motorists and pedestrians. Automobile drivers participated in thirteen principal practices that caused practically all of the 21,000 traffic fatalities last year. Pedestrians, too, were engaged in thirteen different things that resulted in their being killed or injured. If motorists and pedestrians will refrain from indulging in any of these thirteen unsafe ways of driving and walking, they will be almost free from danger this year.

C. E. Robb, statistician of the National Safety Council, today made an analysis of public accidents in the United States during 1925, based on reports received from more than 90 different cities.

Here are the thirteen hazards that got motorists into trouble:

1. Did not have right of way.
2. Exceeded speed limit.
3. On

- wrong side of road.
4. Failed to signal.
5. Cut in or cut left corner.
6. Backed up.
7. Drove off road-way.
8. Passed street car too soon.
9. Car ran away when left by driver.
10. Drove through safety zone.
11. Passed on wrong side, passed on curve or hill.
12. Tried to operate car while intoxicated.
13. Didn't have car in good condition. Brakes defective or some other mechanical trouble.

Here are the thirteen menaces that pedestrians faced with fatal results:

1. Walked, ran or played in street.
2. Crossed at intersection without signal.
3. Crossed at intersection against signal.
4. Crossed at intersection with signal but failed to see vehicle.
5. Not on sidewalk.
6. Riding or hitching on vehicle.
7. At work in roadway.
8. Went into street not at intersection, without due caution.
9. Waiting for or getting on or off street car where there was no safety zone without looking.
10. Injured while waiting for trolley at safety zone.
11. Getting on or off other vehicle on left side.
12. View obstructed by umbrella, newspaper or snow.
13. Physical defects, under influence of liquor, etc.

Most of the fatalities occurred during the rush hours when people were going to work, to lunch or to their residences. Around 5 p. m. was the most dangerous hour when most pedestrians were killed by automo-

METROPOLITAN WOMEN PLAN GREATER ACTIVITY

New York churchwomen under the leadership of Mrs. Samuel Thorne, president of the Women's Auxiliary in the New York Diocese, will hold a service of intercession in the Church of the Incarnation, Madison avenue and Thirty-fifth street, New York city, on March 25, for the purpose of awakening the women of the Diocese to increased activities for the promotion of Christianity and peace. Similar services are being arranged by the Women's Auxiliary in every part of the country.

At the last general convention of the Episcopal Church, the National organization of the Women's Auxiliary pledged its support to the Church General Program, and adopted a message to the women of the church urging cooperation with the National Council in the solution of problems of finance and other matters due to "apathy" and "our own lukewarmness." The message has now been made the program of the Women's Auxiliary for the present triennial, and an appeal is being made to the women of the church in the auxiliary branches throughout the country to dedicate themselves not only to the payment in full of all general church quotas, but to increased parish effort, strengthening of rural and foreign born work, closer relationship with the mission fields, and the carrying out of a constructive program of education for peace, and the use of our best efforts and strongest influence toward the promotion of international and inter-racial good will.

The service of intercession, which will be conducted by the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, D. D., rector of Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia, will continue from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. on March 25, and will be attended by members of the auxiliary from all parts of the Diocese of New York.

GRAND GORGE

Grand Gorge, March 17.—George Tate spent the week end in Grand Gorge with his family.

Mr. Forest Richtmyer was called to Franklin on account of the serious illness of her sister on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Joslyn entertained the Card Club on Friday evening. All report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gray were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Alton Brenn on Friday.

Lewis Brook's was in Kingston on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Richtmyer entertained several friends at dinner from Roxbury, also Mrs. George Tate from Grand Gorge on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Dix of Carbondale, Pa., is visiting her son, Forest Dix, and wife for two weeks.

Garland Miller from Hobart has been spending some time with his mother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dimmick of Roxbury spent the week end with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Joslyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Booth, who have been spending the past few weeks in New York city and Washington, returned home Saturday and report a very interesting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Joslyn visited Mrs. Albert Hadden, also Mrs. Marcus Miller over the week end.

Forest Dix was in Oneonta on business Wednesday.

Mrs. S. Pindar has been quite ill the past week. Mrs. Howard Pindar, her son's wife, is caring for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sickler are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son born to them on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schwiller were Prattville visitors on Sunday.

Mr. Brink at Business Court.

At a business court of the Society of Colonial Wars in the state of New York, held at the Union League Club, 3 East 29th street, New York city, Monday evening, March 15, Ulster county was represented by Theodore Brink of Late Katrinae. Major C. Church, a member of Council of the Society, gave an address on "Supplying Armes Then and Now," illustrated by stereopticon slides. Supper was served at the close of the meeting.

MARLBOROUGH PHYSICIAN'S WIFE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Dr. A. S. Ferguson received a telegram here last Monday advising him of a narrow escape from drowning that Mrs. Ferguson had while bathing at one of the Miami beaches Sunday afternoon. The telegram gave only meager details but stated that she had been restored to some extent and it was decided not to call him until the following day. Dr. Ferguson wound up business affairs as best he could and left Tuesday afternoon for Florida to attend her. He will return to look after his patients here as soon as possible. Fortunately Dr. David Mosher returned home the last of the week from his visit of two weeks in Florida and this prevented the town from temporarily being without a physician. The lure of Florida has been in one way or another responsible for all the Marlborough physicians being away from home at one or another time this winter.

WHEN WITCH FIRES
BLAZED IN EUROPE

Nine Million Women Victims of Superstition.

It must have surprised some people to read of the Tipton case, where men were prosecuted for threatening a woman said to "cast spells." For though belief in witchcraft is still prevalent in parts of France, most people fancied it long dead in Britain. There was a time when it was no laughing matter for any woman to possess a dark eye, a prominent tooth, or a black cat, especially if she did not get on well with her neighbors, says a writer in the Continental edition of the London Mail. But the law makes no provision today for dealing drastically with witches, nor are they any longer allowed to roast unpopular old women on the continent, as in the uncomfortable medieval dusk, when no woman was safe, and an elderly one needed to step warily. It is hardly possible in these polite and lenient times to realize that for centuries Europe literally blazed with witch fires. Sprenger tells us that the total execution of witches in Europe must have reached the incredible figure of 9,000,000. Prague burnt 1,000,000 in one year (as did Como and Paris) and destroyed 50 in one great fire. We are told the smell of witch burning was scarcely ever out of the air, and apparently the fires were never out.

And that sort of thing went on to a lesser extent in most of the cities, for the Bible said, "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live," and they had a way of reading things very literally then.

Witch-burning has gone, but superstitions still linger with us. We fling the salt over the shoulder. We touch wood—a reminder of touching the cross. We avoid the third light. We don't go under a ladder—a relic of Tyburn days. We shirk 13, and dislike starting things on Fridays.

The fact is that we still have deep in our natures, as a residue of prehistoric times, fear of unknown powers. In olden days people believed in goblins, vampires and devils, and the priests devised charms to exorcise them. The psychologist says many of our fancies originated in the fears of infancy. Buried or suppressed ideas persist in the subconscious element of the cerebral gray cells, and in later life crop up at the surface as mere reflections.

But it is unwise to seek for omens and portents and to put dependence on charms. The mind has so dominant a power over the body that if we believe a thing too strongly it may come about.

Stranger Than Fiction

"Restaurants," said a restaurateur, "used to depend on their kitchens. They depend on their dance floors now."

"My new dance floor, like all the latest dance floors, is suspended on air cushions, steel springs and rubber buffers. This gives it elasticity. We tune it up every few days like a piano. Springs and air cushions and rubber buffers must be kept in perfect harmony at just the right pitch."

"In the old days floors were polished. We trim them now. Two men with electric irons go over my floor every morning. The job takes an hour, and it gives the floor a touch that the old days knew nothing about."

World's Hardest Luck

The scene was the circus tent where the freaks held forth. Evidently the armless wonder had something on his mind.

"Why the 'preoccupied air, old chap?" asked the living skeleton.

The armless wonder sighed.

"It's this way," he said. "Here I sit, day after day, autographing cards with a pen between my toes."

"If I want a character reading from a specimen of my handwriting I am the one person in the world who can't get it. I have got to wait until a footwriting expert comes along."

The living skeleton's sympathy was profound.

Can't Cross Vegetables

There is no danger of getting a "punkley" flavor in watercress, even if the two plants are grown in the same field. The belief that natural crossing occurs, damaging the marketability of melons, has been proved to be erroneous. Dr. E. F. Coaster of Iowa State college says. He made 25 attempts to get a cross under the most favorably controlled conditions possible, and in no case was there any success.

Brains in Brass

The "brass brain," a device that can predict what the rides will be in any part in the world at any time, is in use in the laboratory of the coast and geodetic survey at Washington. The machine is said to do the work of 60 mathematicians. Its name is derived from the fact that practically all of its 15,000 parts are made of brass. Fifteen years were required to perfect the machine.—Popular Science Monthly.

Irish Lecturer
Here Tonight

Kingston Council, No. 278, Knights of Columbus, is prepared to take care of a record attendance this evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Broadway and Andrew street, when Seumas MacManus, Irish poet, writer and lecturer, will deliver one of his famous fairy and folk tale talks on the Emerald Isle.

The event happening on the day when many hearts are turned to the shores of Ireland is expected to attract many who came from Ireland, those of Irish extraction and those who read articles and poems written by MacManus in the leading magazines. As a lecturer MacManus is little known in these parts but as a writer he has gained considerable fame.

There will be an entertainment appropriate to the occasion. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Who Is To Blame?

If young people are brought up in ignorance of the temptations and pitfalls of life, who is to blame if they fall into error? Is it not better that they be taught the truth, so that they may avoid the mistakes which so often spell tragedy?

This is the mission of True Story Magazine. By publishing the actual experiences of others, it not only reveals the influences which are always at work to blind and deceive the innocent, but it drives home the eternal truth that only right thinking and right living can ever bring happiness.

If you like to read stories that grip your imagination, tug at your heart-strings, and leave you uplifted and feeling better for what you have read, you will want to read the 16 absorbing features in April True Story—now on all newsstands!

Who Is To Blame
If Your Child Is Weak and Thin?

Build Him Up Quickly with New
Laxative Tablets and Cod
Liver Oil Tablets.

It is your own fault if your child stays weak and thin. For Cod Liver Oil and Iron will produce stout and rich red blood when ordinary food fails.

Children who receive the vitamins and food-building elements from Cod Liver Oil and Iron will grow the very best part away from the sun. They are also equipped with the power to resist disease. Quality matters. Cod Liver Oil and Iron Tablets are the best. You'll soon be proud of your own appearance and your child's vigorous progress.

Tigers' Infield Best in Years

Augusta, Ga., March 17.—(Basin) his faith on a hunch, plus a better ball club than he had in finishing fourth last year. Ty Cobb maintains an attitude of quiet confidence in the ability of his Detroit Tigers to finish first up with the pace in the 1924 American League campaign.

Ty's hunch is born of the fact that criticism generally, have read the Tigers out of the party this year. Last season, a large plurality of the sharps named the Detroit club to cop the pennant. But Ty's pitchers fell down early.

Now that the arm snappers do not concede the Cobblers a place in the first division, Ty is hopeful that their predictions will work out with their customary amount of reverse English.

However, he is not relying upon a hunch alone. He is convinced that, in every department, his club will be stronger. The outfield will be the same, which means opposing outfielders will not lack for daily exercise. It includes Cobb, Heilmann, Wingo, Manush and Fothergill, 100 hitters all.

Cobb played in 106 games last year and says he will appear just as frequently in 1924. He has just been successfully operated upon for his eye ailment and believes that his vision has been vastly improved and his hitting accordingly.

The infield, according to Ty, will be the best that has represented Detroit in the history of the American League. It will be composed of Blue at first, Gehring at second, Faver at short and either Warner or Mullen at third. Gehring has replaced Burke and O'Rourke and looks the part of a real second baseman, the best, in fact, Detroit has had in years.

Cobb figures that if his pitchers ran rank as high as fourth in effectiveness, he can jockey the Tigers down to the wire in front. It is too early yet to estimate the worth of his new pitchers but he has six who starred in the minor leagues last year. Lefty Jones, who pitched Fort Worth into four successive pennants, Clyde Barfoot, ex-Cardinal, and Carl Hubbell, a big southpaw from Oklahoma City, are the most promising of the sextette. Sam Gibson and George Smith, 1923 mainstays at Toronto, and Fred Watt, a right-hander from San Antonio, are the other candidates.

Of the veterans, he is relying most on Ken Holloway, Earle Whitehill, George Daus and Lil Stoner. He also reposes considerable faith in Big Ed Wells, the Bethany College southpaw, who lacked experience last year but, nevertheless, pitched a few excellent games.

Give them even second rate pitching and the Tigers will be hard to stop.

DELANEY'S MANAGER NOT SATISFIED WITH TERMS

New York, March 17.—A hitch developed today in the proposed Jack Delaney-Paul Dierbach bout for the light heavyweight championship when Pete Reilly, manager of Delaney, declared that financial arrangements would have to be more to his satisfaction before he would go through with the match.

Tex Rickard made no comment on the situation but Garden officials intimated that the difficulties would be smoothed out, so the bout could go on for June 19.

Wills Continues to Win

Canoe, March 17.—Helen Wills continued her whirlwind progress in the Canoe Lawn Tennis Club tournament today, defeating Mrs. Kearns of India, 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Wills and Cochet won their first match in the mixed doubles defeating Miss Westcott and Gramme Wood of England, 6-2, 6-1.

Tilden Lost Heavy on Show

New York, March 17.—Backstage gossip, who sometimes know their vegetables, were whispering a rather depressing story today about William T. Tilden, 2nd, paying approximately $30,000 for the privilege of acting in semi-private on Broadway. Details of the major operation said to have been performed on the young man's checking account were lacking, except that the show breathed its painful last some days ago, the public having stayed away in droves.

The tennis champion now is recovering from the shock at Jackson ville, Fla. He has come back to the realm of lawn tennis.

Tilden's losses, according to conservative estimates, were not less than $50,000, taking into consideration the amount of serious money he is alleged to have sunk in motion pictures.

It was said on good authority today that the closing of Tilden's show, far from assuring his appearance at Wimbledon this year, may serve to cement his half-formed determination to turn up missing. If he really has dropped important money on Broadway, Tilden will remain at home, they say in order to avoid the penalty of the player with rule. He cannot write on any tournament in which he is a contestant, therefore, they say he will content as little as possible this year in the laudable hope of refurbishing the exchequer.

Meanwhile, the Davis Cup Committee is due to meet on Thursday night and one of the projects for consideration is to devise some method whereby Tilden may be coerced into taking part in the trip to England. The writer wishes the committee plenty of luck because it probably will need more than that.

Hoff Sets Three New Records

New York, March 17.—With three new world's records to his credit, Charles Hoff, of Norway, was the unofficial world's all-around champion today almost by default, as a result of Harold Osborne's withdrawal and the disqualification of Emerson Norton in the Hurdles. They were his two rivals in the three-man septathlon test at the Knights of Columbus games last night and Osborne was able to compete in only three events before an old ankle injury forced him out.

Norton continued with the invader to the last but it was a hopeless gesture after the officials decided the Georgetown athlete was entitled to no points in the 60-yard high hurdles because he knocked down two of the four obstacles.

These ante-climaxes, however, didn't detract one whit from the lustre of Hoff's performance. Almost at the end of the seven-event test, he was fresh enough to clear a new world's indoor record height of 13 feet seven inches in the pole vault, adding a fraction of an inch to his own mark. Another indoor record performance was his 23 feet 7 1/2 inches in the broad jump, displacing Bill Dowling's record by about six inches.

The Norwegian's third record was his 5,885.3 points for the septathlon. Norton having held the old record.

Norton had a total of 4,708.4 points and would have totalled 5,599 except for his hurdle disqualification.

Osborne's failure to win the high jump, his pet event, ended his chances and he limped from the enclosure a very downcast youth. His withdrawal followed the shot put, in which he again was unable to give his best efforts.

Hoff won five events, the 60-yard dash, the broad jump, the pole vault, the hurdles and the 400-metre run. Norton took the remaining two, the high jump and shot put.

Will Try to Swim English Channel

Dick Howell, captain of the Northwestern university swimming team and holder of several swimming records, announces he will try to swim the English channel next summer. He will go with the Northwestern swimming team which accompanied the Northwestern Glee club on a tour of Europe.

Youngest Managers Seen in Big Baseball Leagues

Stanley Harris is the youngest manager in baseball. He already has won two pennants for the Washington club although he is not yet thirty.

Adrian C. Anson and Frank (Husk) Chance, former managers of the Chicago club of the National league, won three pennants each for their club before they reached thirty years.

Charlie Comiskey of the St. Louis club of the '80s and Fred Clark of the Pittsburgh club led their respective teams to pennants before they had reached their thirtieth year.

In fact, Chance was the youngest manager to lead a big league team to a championship. Born in 1870, he won his first pennant in 1906, then followed with successive pennants in 1907 and 1908.

Honors "Nibs" Price

The associated students of the University of California have selected Clarence "Nibs" Price to the position of head coach of the University of California to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Andy Smith. It is stated that Price was given a three-years contract at $8,000 per year.

Smith's Gold Ovals Are Given to Five Captains

Judge Milton T. Farmer of San Francisco, executor of the estate of the late Andy Smith, football coach at the University of California, announces that the gold football given the late lamented instructor by the Students' Athletic association in recognition of his efforts in developing champion eleven, will be presented to the captains of the five Pacific coast intercollegiate teams he produced at the Berkeley institution, namely: 1920, Cort Majors; 1921, George "Fat" Laatham; 1922, Charles Ebb; 1923, Don Nichols; and 1924, "Babe" Horrell.

Golfer Archie Compston Stays in United States

Archie Compston, the greatest golfer Europe has produced in years, has decided to remain in America as a playing professional at a club in the East. The British champion has tentatively accepted terms for a summer position in New York, with the provision that he be permitted to return to England to compete for the British open championship.

Compston is assured of a post in Florida next winter. He is here with Arnold Massy, French open title holder, for a series of international matches.

Golf Played in Ireland Three Centuries Ago

Golf was played in Ireland 300 years ago, according to a discovery made by Joseph R. Fisher, member of the boundary commission. He has unearthed records which show that Lord Montgomery, or plain Mr. Haigh as he was then, was granted land by King James near where the famous Newcastle links now are.

Montgomery gave a site for a school on this land and records show that he allotted sufficient space for schools to "play at golf."

The school and links disappeared during the troubled years of the Civil war and rebellion, in the latter half of the Seventeenth century.

Sporting Squibs

In Australia every schoolboy is taught to swim before he takes up any other branch of sport.

Our Mr. Dempsey hasn't got himself into an entangling alliance since the Firpo matter.

Of the 50 players who represented Washington and Pittsburgh in the world's series 16 were formerly of the Southern association.

Hamilton college and Colgate will resume football relations in 1924, after a lapse of 16 years. It has been announced from Hamilton.

Ray Schmandt, first baseman of the Indianapolis American association baseball club, has been sold to the Memphis Southern association team.

The new stadium to be erected by the Multnomah Athletic club in Portland, Ore., will seat 20,000 spectators and will be ready for football this fall.

The Washington champions have acquired Joe Bush and John Tobin from the Browns. The tradition is that Joe and Johnny were originally discovered by Scout Daniel Boone.

Dartmouth university, which won the Eastern intercollegiate hockey championship by defeating Williams, will play the University of Toronto for the international championship, March 25.

Joe Sewell, crack batter of the Cleveland Indians, has two strikes on him more often than a great majority of the big-league players, yet is the hardest man in the American league to strike out.

Results of Games At Training Camps

New Orleans, La., March 17.—Walter Shamer, promising Red Sox recruit, was laid up today with a fractured bone of his right leg. As the regulars were defeating the Yankees by a score of 10 to 6 in an eight inning practice game Shamer was sliding into third base where he struck the bag and rolled over on his face.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The Braves increased their string of victories to six when they took a fall out of the Giants here, 5 to 0.

How the Teams Will Line-up

The following line-ups are scheduled to start the game at the Armory Thursday evening. Kingston: Borgman and Husta in front, Tome at center and Husta and Artus in the back court. Powers will be the extra player. Metropolitan League Stars: Williams and Lajekie, forwards; Keller, center and Dreyfus and Bergkamp, guards.

A record crowd is expected to be in attendance at this affair, as already there is a great demand for tickets. The proceeds will go toward the American Legion Welfare Fund.

There will also be staged a preliminary game that should be worthwhile viewing, bringing together Manager McNally's All-Stars and the St. Mary's quintet. Preliminary game starts at 7:15 o'clock. The line-ups scheduled are as follows: McNally All Stars: Hoffmann, f.; Merritt, f.; Bruck, Joseph, c.; Ditch, g.; Vogt, g.; Knight, Davitt, extra.

St. Mary's—Van Buren, f.; Rice, f.; Buck, Pete, c.; Clare, g.; Van Brainer, g.; Mooney, extra. Mikey Husta, referee.

Dancing will follow the game with music by Harry Malsenholder and his orchestra.

MRS. CARNEGIE GRANTED DIVORCE BY SEINE COURT

Paris, March 17.—Mrs. Dorothy Dugan Carnegie was granted a divorce by the Seine Court today from Thomas Morrison Carnegie, director of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching.

Carnegie was charged with "rare and infrequent appearances at the domicile since 1924." They were married in New York, June 26, 1922. Mrs. Carnegie was given custody of their one child.

This was Carnegie's second marriage, his first wife having been Virginia D. Beggs whom he married in 1922. Carnegie, who is 52, was born in Pittsburgh, and educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and Columbia University. He is a member of the racquet and tennis clubs of New York.

Mrs. Jean Hopkins Lambert received a divorce from Robert Patterson Lambert, Jr., prominent in Chicago business and social circles. Mrs. Robert Gertrude Curry Beach, who was married in London in 1909 to Gordon Patterson Beach, was also granted a divorce.

Mango in America

The mango has been cultivated to some extent in southern Florida and California. It has been said that some eight-year-old trees in Florida have borne as many as 3,000 fruits in a single season.

The Great Northeast

Where cigar reputations are made or lost

Boosting was born in the Great Northwest. Perhaps that is why it's called "Great."

But there's a Great Northeast also! It comprises New England and a liberal slice of New York. It has a President in the White House . . . and a greater per capita sale of fine cigars than any other section of the country.

Any cigar-maker will tell you of the Great Northeast. He'll tell you a cigar simply can't sell in the Northeast unless it's a quality cigar.

For two generations no cigar has had a steadier, bigger sale entirely from the Northeast than Peter Schuyler. For Peter Schuyler has all the virtues which appeal to critical smokers—mildness . . . mellowness . . . fragrance . . . unvarying satisfaction.

Slenderizing Gum
Fashion's New Fad

"It is tantalizing to be able to afford the world's finest delicacies and then have to diet" has been the complaint of Fifth Avenue's stout matrons. Therefore they have been thrilled at science's latest discovery that a certain harmless medicinal ingredient, purely vegetable, reduces several pounds a week and renders starving unnecessary. It contains no thyroid or other dangerous drugs. It acts quickly when well chewed. So it is embodied in a deliciously flavored chewing gum called "Slenderize." Our druggists have stocked this gum so that local stout persons may follow Fifth Avenue's lead and "Slenderize with Slenderize."

the fruit."

Col. Coolidge's
Condition Weak

Plymouth, Vt., March 17.—With grit and courage an unyielding as the granite of his native Vermont hills, Colonel John C. Coolidge, the president's father, was today making a last ditch fight against the grim reaper.

Only a heart imbued with the power of a Coolidge will, is left to stall off death, doctors indicated. Everything else has failed to function, worn out after 81 years of service.

From the sick room this morning came word that the patient was fairly comfortable and had secured some rest during the night.

At 11:30 a. m., Dr. Cram issued the following bulletin:

"There is nothing new to be said of Col. Coolidge's condition. His heart condition is fair and temperature and respiration near normal. He remains very weak as he is unable to take any nourishment."

"He is very comfortable when not disturbed and bears what pain and discomfort necessary with great fortitude. No new developments anticipated during the next 24 hours."

Society Notes

Lowell Club

This week the Lowell Club met with Mrs. Fessenden. Mrs. Everett's admirable paper on "Madagascar, Zanzibar, and the Smaller Islands," was read as was another very interesting sketch on "The Snows and Swamps of Tropical Africa," prepared by Mrs. Wonderly. "Beauty Spots in Africa" was the roll call. Announcement was made of the coming Federation executive committee meeting Thursday and the open meeting Saturday afternoon. Next Tuesday the club will meet with Miss Fuller.

Zimmerman-Chambers

Mrs. Clover Tschirky Chambers and Ira Zimmerman of New Paltz were married Saturday afternoon, March 13, at the New Paltz Reformed Church parsonage by the pastor, the Rev. Ernest Clapp. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tschirky. Mr. Tschirky is the well known maître de hotel at the Waldorf Astoria, New York city, and owns an estate on the New Paltz and Kingston road. Mr. Zimmerman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Zimmerman and is connected with his father in the butcher business on Main street in New Paltz.

Woodstock Birthday Party

Woodstock, March 17.—A birthday party and impromptu entertainment was given at the home of Mrs. L. B. Calamar of Woodstock on Tuesday in honor of Janice and Donald Calamar. There was fancy dancing by Margaret Longyear, Laura Waterman and Jean Taylor and songs by Wanda Bertel and Frances Thompson. Among those invited were: Marjorie Pepper, Peter Leacycraft, Robert Huty, Nancy Huty, Margaret Huty, David Updegraff, Margaret Longyear, Jean Taylor, Gloria Calamar, Jean Elva, Milton Wolven, Laura Waterman, Hans Schleicher, Carl Schleicher, Arthur Pepper, Nancy Grimm, Wanda Bertel, Helena Skutis and Frances Thompson. Refreshments were served.

A Birthday Party

Little Miss Bernadette Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walker, of 297 Hasbrouck avenue, was hostess to about thirty of her friends on Saturday, March 13, in honor of her 11th birthday. She charmingly entertained her guests with games and musical selections were rendered, the bean game being won by little Christobel Murphy. Margaret Messinger and Baby Kathryn Fabysack. Later the children were ushered into the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. The table was prettily dressed in Easter flowers and favors. In the center was a large birthday cake with eleven lighted candles, the color scheme being pink and orchid. Miss Walker received many beautiful gifts and was voted a royal entertainer by her friends on their departure. Those present were the Misses Mary Gallagher, Marie Cullum, Anna Gallagher, Gertrude Shader, Martha Huestus, Harriet Huestus, Dorothy O'Meara, Helen Miller, Nan Goldrick, Marie Murphy, Eleanor Murphy, Anna Kelly, Marion Kelly, Kathryn Tauberman, Theodora Heimerle, Helen O'Meara, Kathryn Bannon, Christobel Murphy, Gertrude Cook, Margaret Messinger, Dorothy Messinger, Edna McCordie, Rita Quilly, Sally Gallagher, Marie Elliott, Bernadette Elliott, Annette Fabysack, Dolores MacNamara, Kathryn Fabysack, Mrs. John Cullum, Mrs. Kathryn Elliott, Mrs. James Fabysack and little Miss Walker.

Schneider Found to Pieces

New York, March 17.—The sixty-foot schooner, Galloper, owned by W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., was blown ashore and is pounding to pieces on Chester Shoals, Del., according to word received today by Cox and Stevens, marine architects. The Galloper was caught in the same gale which disabled the yacht, Cutty Sark and Nichapo.

Results of Five
Village Elections

Officers Chosen by Ulster County's Incorporated Villages Tuesday—Largest Vote Cast in Rosendale—New Paltz Defeats Street Lighting Proposition.

Village elections were held in the five incorporated villages of Ulster county Wednesday with the following results:

Saugerties: President for fourth term, Marvin Gillespie; trustees for two years, William D. Brown, John F. Carrington, Thomas P. O'Deg, treasurer, William F. Keenan, collector, Charles S. Wilbur; assessor, three years, Lewis H. Kleber, one year, Frederick Kraus. There was no opposition and the vote was light, 155 votes being cast for election of officers.

Two propositions were voted for in the village and both were carried, 92 votes being cast on the propositions. One proposition was to raise $2,500 for street lighting and snow removal and the second was to raise $2,000 to repair Kingston street and the upper end of Washington avenue.

New Paltz: President, Benjamin H. Matteson; trustees, Kenneth E. Snyder, Irving D. Korthright, street commissioner, John H. Lutz, collector, Mrs. Emma Lutz, treasurer, Eugene Van Wageningen. The vote in the village was light, about 75 votes being cast.

The proposition to light the village streets was defeated by a vote of 25 to 25. This matter will call for a special election in three months when the matter will again be called to the attention of the village.

Ellenville: President, H. W. Coates; trustees, James H. Coates, H. Terlich and E. L. Johnson, collector, George W. Mance, treasurer, Floyd H. Coates, assessor, J. G. Gillberg. The vote in the village was light, about 100 votes being cast.

Six propositions were voted on and all were carried by a good margin. The village has a good reputation of $12,000 to be raised for the village work.

In Rosendale, there were 100 votes and a family vote was carried by a vote of 25 to 25. This matter will call for a special election in three months when the matter will again be called to the attention of the village.

Two propositions were voted on and both were carried. The village has a good reputation of $12,000 to be raised for the village work.

Fall of Slate
Kills Two Miners

Springfield, Ill., March 17.—George Manuel and Basil Condron, both of Springfield, were instantly killed in a fall of slate following the explosion of a "windy shot" in Peabody Coal Company Mine No. 62, at Riverton, east of here, today. The bodies were recovered by members of the state mine rescue crew five hours after the accident.

The men, both shot, frayed, were alone in the "coal room" at the time of the explosion, tons of slate burying them.

HARVARD CRIMSON

PLASTERED WITH ORANGE

Cambridge, Mass., March 17.—With green the popular color in this city today, citizens were startled to find the dilapidated building of the Harvard Crimson ablaze with orange.

An orange flag hung from the flagpole and a dozen youth armed with buckets of paste and crepe paper had plastered the building in orange color.

Soon after the anti-green dress was applied to the Crimson, a parade of the Harvard Lampon staff, dressed in green, went across Harvard campus and a special St. Patrick's number of "Lamby" was sent from the press.

Rotary Hears
Seumas McManus

Famous Irish Poet and Lecturer Noon Day Speaker at Kingston Rotary Club—Speaks on Irish Humor and is Given Rising Vote of Thanks.

Seumas MacManus, the famous Irish poet, author and lecturer, was the speaker at the noon day luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Y. M. C. A. today and gave a humorous address on "Irish Humor." Mr. MacManus is a noted authority on Irish folk lore and has written several books which are widely read.

It was "Irish Day" at the Rotary Club dinner with green paper hats at each plate and green favors which exploded with a bang when opened. There was also green pencils at each plate to jot down any of the funny stories that the speaker might relate. Mr. MacManus spoke for over half an hour illustrating his talk with numberless stories showing the Irish wit and humor prevalent in Ireland. All of his stories were new to his audience who were kept in an uproar of laughter throughout his talk.

Mr. MacManus speaks with an Irish brogue which gave just the right touch to his stories of Irish wit. With Harry Malsenholder at the piano a number of old Irish songs were sung heartily by the Rotarians, and the committee who had arranged for the speaker of the day and also for the decorations, which included green carnations at each plate, also came in for a vote of thanks.

STRIKERS NOT ALLOWED TO SEE PRESIDENT

Washington, March 17.—A delegation representing the Passaic, N. J., textile strikers, was denied permission to present its grievances to President Coolidge.

Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, said the delegation would have to take its troubles to the labor department, not the White House.

KLAN CANDIDATES DEFEATED IN TWO CITY ELECTIONS.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 17.—The complete collapse of the Ku Klux Klan as a political power in western New York was seen by politicians here today in the overwhelming defeat of Klan candidates in the Johnstown City and Endicott elections. The entire Klan tickets of the two cities were beaten by the heaviest vote ever recorded in local history.

BELIEVE DEMENTED YOUNG WOMAN IS FIRE-BUG.

New York, March 17.—Believed driven to incendiary mania by the death of her child in a fire, a demented young woman was being sought by police today as the "fire-bug" who set fourteen fires within seven hours in Brooklyn.

The only clue to the woman's identity is a meager description furnished by a man who saw her wheel an empty baby carriage into one of the blazing buildings.

Flu Epidemic at Albany.

Albany, N. Y., March 17.—This city is suffering from an influenza epidemic that has caused the closing of a private school, impaired mail service and handicapped the local fire department.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 17.—Both the railroad and industrial stock lists displayed further weakness today. The market had little opportunity to shake off its reactionary tone, with the possible exception of the oil stocks, under the strong leadership of Standard Oil of New Jersey. This stock was in fact the outstanding strong spot in the whole market, rising to above 43 against yesterday's close at 42 1/2.

Chesapeake & Ohio was extremely erratic, and stocks of the southern roads were also erratic. Atlantic Coast Line making a slight recovery while Seaboard Air Line sold at the lowest price of the year.

The franc was quoted around four cents, the lowest since stabilization was attempted.

Ward Baking D led a reactionary movement in the baking and mercantile stocks, in which Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Kresge and Continental Can participated. National Cloak and Suit sold off three points to a new low at 20. Central leather common and preferred lost four points each.

Commodity markets were unsettled. Quotations given by C. H. Halsey & Co., 27 William street, New York city, branch office, Warren Building, 150-62 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y.

Says Verdict Is a Disgrace

Albany, N. Y., March 17.—A searching investigation today was ordered by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Charles A. Harnett into the case of Leo J. Culligan, of Ithaca, found guilty by a jury of reckless driving after he had been tried on a charge of manslaughter.

Mrs. Stella Kaiser Whitson, of Elmira, was killed by an automobile driven by Culligan, who subsequently was indicted for manslaughter.

"The judge who heard the case," said Commissioner Harnett, "declared the verdict was a disgrace."

It was charged Culligan was driving while intoxicated when Mrs. Whitson was killed.

The entertainment committee have prepared a program and refreshments will be served promising a pleasant evening for the membership. All members should mark up Friday evening as Pythian night.

Joe Chambers is ill of grip at his home on Broadway. Dr. George W. Rose is the attending physician.

Mrs. Louise Rowley of Broadway is visiting relatives in Castleton and Schenectady.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barton of Castleton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chambers on Broadway.

Tobacco in England
Many authorities have stated that smoking was unknown in England before 1554. But it is certain that, long before this period, herbs such as coltsfoot and yarrow were smoked for medical purposes. Pipes have been found belonging to an earlier date than the sixteenth century. There is a difference of opinion as to whom belongs the distinction of introducing tobacco into Great Britain: Sir Walter Raleigh, Sir John Hawkins, Mr. Ralph Lane (governor of Virginia) or Captains Amidas and Barlow.

Early Republic
The title "Batavian Republic" was assumed by the seven united provinces of the Netherlands at the time of their organization as a republic, May 6, 1795. They retained the title until 1806, when the form of government was changed, and the provinces were converted into the kingdom of Holland, under Louis Bonaparte as king. The title is derived from Batavia, the Latin name for Holland and the Netherlands.

Literary "Find" Acclaimed
The finding of another "Tamerlane," the first printed work of Edgar Allan Poe, has been acclaimed as the greatest literary find in years. "Tamerlane" was published by Poe when he was just sixteen and it is the highest priced of American first editions. It is the greatest desideratum of book collectors. The British museum has one. The latest copy was found in a small bookshop in Boston.

Up to the Individual

three brothers, Sanford, Harford and Howland, and two sisters, Mrs. William Fowler and Miss Jane E. Baxter, and a number of nephews and nieces, all of Marlborough.

The funeral of Raymond Rose was held from his late home, 21 Staples street, this morning at 9 o'clock and 9:30 at St. Mary's Church, where a solemn requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul. The Rev. William Kennedy, celebrant, the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, deacon, and the Rev. Thomas Jordan, subdeacon. The services were very largely attended by his many relatives and friends. There was also a large delegation from the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus and the American Legion. Tuesday evening the members of the Fourth Degree K. of C. and the American Legion assembled at the home and recited the rosary and paid their respects to his memory. The burial took place at the high altar in which he was held by all who knew him. The bearers were Clarence Perry, Bernard Peasey, Frank Smith, Edward Moran, F. P. Wingert and Raymond Conway, all members of the Fourth Degree K. of C. The Rev. Father Fitzpatrick conducted the funeral services at the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, where a fitting squad of three volleys over the grave and team succeeded.

MIAMI, Fla., March 17.—Bandits last night robbed the Bahamas Islands treasury at Nassau, Bahamas, of $47,000 in English currency, and escaped in a high-powered speed boat, according to word received here this afternoon by Sheriff Henry R. Chase.

The American Consul at Nassau requested Sheriff Chase to advise all authorities along the eastern coast of the robbery. The bandits were believed to be headed for the American coast.

Sign in Winter
Under old logs, even in winter, you may find evidence that have but one pair of legs to each body segment and equipped with two pairs to each segment, says Nature Magazine. The members of one of these groups presently cut plant material, and of the other, animal material.

BANDITS AT NASSAU
ROB ISLANDS TREASURY.
Miami, Fla., March 17.—Bandits last night robbed the Bahamas Islands treasury at Nassau, Bahamas, of $47,000 in English currency, and escaped in a high-powered speed boat, according to word received here this afternoon by Sheriff Henry R. Chase.

The American Consul at Nassau requested Sheriff Chase to advise all authorities along the eastern coast of the robbery. The bandits were believed to be headed for the American coast.

Sign in Winter
Under old logs, even in winter, you may find evidence that have but one pair of legs to each body segment and equipped with two pairs to each segment, says Nature Magazine. The members of one of these groups presently cut plant material, and of the other, animal material.

Dr. Trexler to Preach Here

The Rev. Samuel Trexler, D. D., president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of New York and New Eng-land, will make an official visit to the Church of the Redeemer, this city, next Sunday, preaching at the morn-ing service.

Dr. Trexler has the honor of being the first called president of the synod, and is now serving his second term. He is a pioneer in church work. Coming directly from the seminary in Brooklyn he conducted services in a vacant corner saloon at Greenpoint, preaching to two women and three children. Later the hand-some Church of the Messiah was built, and the congregation grew to 600 communicants and 700 Bible school pupils in 13 years of labor.

In 1912 he was called by the synod to take up the work of students' pas-tor at the universities of New York and the New England states. Later he became pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Buffalo, N. Y.

At the outbreak of the war he of-fered his services to the government and the Post Graduate Hospital of New York invited him to become the chaplain of Base Hospital No. 8, near Paris, and he went to that position with the first 25,000 Americans sail-ing for France. After the armistice Dr. Trexler was appointed Protestant chaplain to headquarters of the Third Army at Coblenz.

Dr. Trexler is one of a family of Lutheran pastors. His father rendered long service in the church in Pennsylvania and his brother, the Rev. Charles D. Trexler, who also served as a chaplain in the A. E. F., is pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Brooklyn, N. Y.

No doubt a large congregation will greet Dr. Trexler Sunday morning.

Lambert Is C. E. Field Secretary

Arnold N. Lambert, New Assistant State Christian Endeavor Field Secretary—Sherwood, Well Known Here, Assigned to Important Posi-tion.

Announcement is made from the state board of the appointment of Arnold N. Lambert as assistant field secretary of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union.

The need of an assistant secretary was felt necessary due to the action of the board in releasing for a brief absence Carlton M. Sherwood, who has become executive secretary for the Committee of One Thousand on Law and Order Enforcement, their executive office being in New York city.

This appointment of Mr. Sherwood to this important position is a recog-nition of the efficient work which Christian Endeavor has accomplished under the able leadership of Mr. Sherwood and is very complimentary to Mr. Sherwood's ability.

Mr. Lambert, who is to take up the duties of looking after Endeavor work as assistant to Mr. Sherwood, is a young man of splendid ability, recognized capacity for leadership and is besides a forceful speaker. He is the honor student of his class at the Auburn Presbyterian Theolog-ical Seminary, where he is finishing his last year in training for the Gos-pel ministry.

For the past three years he has made a splendid record as president of the Seneca County Christian En-deavor Union, and having attended many of the state conventions, sum-mer conferences and other gather-ings, he is thoroughly acquainted with the technique of Christian En-deavor.

Van Kleeck Buys Gas Station.

Isaac Van Kleeck and wife of Pine Hill, N. Y., have purchased from Amos McCreery and wife the eight room dwelling with poultry houses and equipment and gas station locat-ed just out of Kingston. This gas station is equipped with every modern improvement and is located right op-posite the Sawkill state road on the Ashokan Boulevard. The Van Kleecks have already taken possession of their new purchase and open for busi-ness. The McCreerys have purchased the store and dwelling formerly owned by Whitakers on Wall street and are conducting a general store. This sale was negotiated by Frank S. Hyatt of the Clister Realty Agency, 276 Fair street.

NEW YORK AGGIES FOOTBALL SCHEDULE.
Farmingdale, N. Y., March 17.—Seven games appear on the football schedule of the New York Aggies for 1926, as announced by Manager Donald R. Ketcham. Trinity College and Seton-Hall take the place of C. N. Y. and Manhattan on the 1925 schedule. Morrisville Aggies and East Stroudsburg Normal are also new.
The team last year was green but finished strong with victories over Cooper Union and Webb. Coach Connor, former New Hampshire Uni-versity star, in beginning his second season, is confident that the expe-rience in team play of last year, with only four members graduating, points toward a good season.
The Schedule: October 9, Cooper Union at Farmingdale; 16, Trinity at Hartford, Conn.; 23, Seton Hall College at Farmingdale; 29, Morrisville Aggies at Farmingdale; Novem-ber 6, Drexel Institute at Philadel-phia; 13, East Stroudsburg Normal at East Stroudsburg, Pa.; 29, Upsala College at East Orange, N.
